Trustees Meet In Cameron

5 Boards Hear Cameron Appeal For Transfer Aid

Five district school boards indicated relief would be forthcoming to the Cameron district for funds for transfer students from their districts.

Representatives from Marlow, Ad Hall, Maysfield, Marak, and Rogers met with the Cameron board Tuesday to hear Cameron's appeal for funds to defray the cost of teaching transfer students here.

Spokesman Don Humble told the group that Cameron needed whatever additional revenue the districts could provide to continue the present curriculum and school improvement.

Supt. Wiley Loughmiller said that several of the groups' trustees indicated they would take the problem to their districts to work out practical solutions.

The rates charged in 10 dependent school districts around Cameron rang from 60 cents to the maximum $1.50 per 100 valuation. Cameron is asking that the districts sending some of the 208 white and Negro transfer students into the city school system pay the Cameron district revenue to defray cost of instruction.

Humble explained the financial status of the Cameron district and reasons for the request for additional funds from the district.

Supt. Loughmiller said the group appeared to appreciate Cameron's position and would work with the city to reach an fair solution.

Transfer students at present are attending classes in Cameron without charge to the districts or families sending the students.

River Overflows During Week-End; 2-Inch Rain Falls

The Little River went out of its banks this weekend, but rapidly receded with a warm front and low 80-degree temperatures moving into the Cameron area Sunday.

Rains totaling 2.02 inches fell on four consecutive days with 1.71 inches falling May 3. Rainfall was: April 30—.10; May 1—.13; May 2—.69 and May 3—1.03.

No major damage was reported in the bottomland along Little River except where some crops were covered by water. No cattle were caught.

Farmers generally were back in the fields this week replanting or clearing weeds that grew up during the two weeks of rain.

In Cameron, lawnmowers were going all over town as residents grass and weed growth.

Eight New Candidates File By Monday PM Deadline

Filtration Plant Now In Operation Working Well

Cameron's new water filtration plant is in operation.

Alvin Heftt, city water superintendent, told The Herald that the new 2 million-gallon plant went into operation without fanfare about a week ago.

He said Tuesday that the plant pumped about one million gallons of water in about 10 hours to refill depleted reservoirs in the city.

The filtration plant was contracted for $172,200. The Little River Intake Station pumping water to the plant was built at a cost of $30,980 and waterlines are contracted for $42,543.85.

Marvin Bowers, representative for Joe J. Rudy & Co., consulting engineers, said that the plant is operating as efficiently as any he has seen.

Heftt said he pumped water to the settling basin April 22, chlorinated it until the following Friday and started the plant in operation May 2.

The new plant completes the first stage in a move for state-approved water. State health laws require that waterlines be checked out and water be tested for purity prior to final state approval.

The city sewage plant is also nearing completion with the contractor about 30 days ahead of schedule. Bowers said that equipment is due. Concrete work has been completed.

City officials noted several complaints on improved taste in water.

TB X-Ray Unit In Cameron At Hefley-Stedman

Milam County Health Unit officials announced that the TB Chest X-ray unit will remain at the Hefley Stedman Motor Company through Friday. The X-ray unit is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

At press time over 200 residents had taken advantage of the free chest X-ray.

Health Department officials reminded that residents in the 50 and above age group are urged to have a chest X-ray. Cameronites in the 20 to 49 age group must secure a reference card from their physician or the County Health Unit to be X-rayed.

The X-ray unit will move to Buckholts Monday. They will be in the Homemaking Building at the school from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Council Votes 3-2 To Employ Staff

The City Council Tuesday voted 3-2 to reappoint all present city department heads except the former city judge.

The split vote followed discussion by new Councilman Sam Houston concerning an incident concerning city police personnel.

Houston alleged recent misconduct on the part of police department personnel, involving a member of the department at a local restaurant and another man.

The motion to re-elect all present city department heads except Judge Roy Baskin, who did not apply for reappointment, passed 3 to 2 with Houston and Hayden Lawrence voting against approval.

William C. Wallace, Cameron attorney, was appointed as new city judge.

Lincoln Mondrik recommended to the council that any complaint against department heads or any city personnel be put in writing or that complainants appear in person before the council when an issue involving city personnel is raised.

Mondrik attacked "street talk" as no basis in considering complaints against city personnel. The council voted unanimously that a policy be drawn up by City Atty. Jack Prescott for future council guidance in considering complaints.

Mayor Bassel Wilson emphasized that the council will accept only written complaints or those made in person on problems of any kind. He said that recent rains have brought many complaints for water drainage relief directly to himself or council members and that they could not personally do anything about such complaints when made.

The mayor's request for appeals to City Hall rather than to individual councilmen brought a motion for a written memorandum system to be set up in City Hall. Councilman Richard Moseley said that more direct communication with department heads would smooth the flow of complaints or requests for service to the various department heads.

In other action the council voted to call for bids on a 2,600-foot sewerline in East Gillis St. W. D. Bigbee, city public works superintendent, estimated the project, budgeted by the council last fall, to cost about $6,400.

The council also authorized Mayor Wilson to complete easement agreements with property owners in west Cameron for a sewerline running north-south.

Bigbee was also requested to get an estimate on the cost of replacing a new fence at Cameron Airport. John A. Smith, Cameron, asked the council for aid in rebuilding the fence near the Labor Shed.

Jaycees Developing Road-e-o Contest

Cameron Jaycees are working on final stages of the second Teen-Age Road-e-o in Cameron scheduled May 17.

Applications have been made available at Yoe High School for students wishing to enter. Teen-agers from all over the county may enter the contest as long as they have a driver's license, are under 20 years of age and have a safe driving record, according to Milton Brown, project chairman.

Coach Murphy Webster is in charge of registration of entries. He will accept applications for the road-e-o until May 15.

Applicants are asked to submit their completed applications with parents' signatures to him as soon as possible, Webster said.

Screen Forms
Forms will be screened for eligibility and written tests will be given prior to the driving Saturday, May 17, at Yoe High School.

The driving test, a four obstacle-type course, will be given about 1:30 p.m. May 17 on East 10th St., in front of Yoe High School. Jaycee workers will erect a series of driving lanes and obstacles of marked barrels and poles for the teen-age contestants.

Any boy or girl not yet 20 years old with a driver's license and safe driving record may enter. Top boy and girl winners will receive special awards. First-prize winner gets a plaque and certificate and entry in the regional contest, held last year in Temple. The second and third-place winners will receive handsome keys.

McDermott Wins In 1957

Last year's driving contest here was won by Make McDermott, Cameron high school senior.

The state winner will go to the National Jaycee event in Washington, D. C., for a chance at $4,500 in college scholarships.

New cars will be furnished contestants through the courtesy of Cameron auto dealers.

Tucker, Maxwell, Wilson Listed In Final Talley

Eight new candidates filed before the Monday deadline for offices up for Democratic primary election in Milam County, according to Max McClaren, executive secretary of the Milam Democratic committee.

Two more men filed for the post of county commissioner, Precinct 2, now contested by six candidates. They were Joe Hickman, Salem Road, and Howard Tucker, Route 3, Cameron.

Incumbent C. L. "Babe" Yount filed for re-election as county commissioner, Precinct 4. He is commissioner of the Thorndale district.

H. D. Maxwell, school principal at Rockdale, filed for the office of county superintendent late Monday evening, McClaren said.

And incumbent Herman Yezak, state representative of the 56th district, drew an opponent when Leon Wilson, Hearne, filed for representative Monday evening, McClaren pointed out.

Smith Files
County Judge Charles C. Smith, Jr., filed for re-election as Milam County judge and Paul Sackowitz filed for justice of the peace, Precinct 6.

McClaren himself filed for re-election as county Democratic executive secretary.

The eight candidates bring the field to 32 filing for public office in Milam County. Filing deadline was midnight, Monday.

The primary is scheduled for July 26, McClaren noted. The field of 32 candidates is four more than the 1956 lineup of candidates.

No county offices are going unopposed, he continued, while several district offices and U. S. Rep. W. R. Bob Poage's office are uncontested in the primary, he said.

6-Candidate Race

The Precinct 2 commissioner's race has six candidates. They are Wilder K. "Ace" Graham, LaVert C. McKinney, Robert Weems, W. E. "Speedy" Braden, Tucker and Hickman.

In the Precinct 4 race incumbent Yount will be running against R. M. McCasland.

Other races include: county judge, Smith and Don G. Humble; county clerk, Homer Nabours and Wayne Wieser; county superintendent, Hinton Pruett and Maxwell; county treasurer, Mrs. Ida A. Johns and Miss Gertrude Batla; and justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Gene Kirk; B. G. Rice and Gus Evans, Sr.

Open House To Show 'Honest John' Model At Board Offices

A scale model of the Honest John Rocket will be one of the items on display Tuesday during an open house at the selective service board offices in Cameron.

The Honest John, officials say, is one of the newest additions to the arsenal of Army weapons. It weighs several tons, has a 30-inch diameter and is 25 feet long.

The public is invited to see the exhibit of models and display of material used by Army during the open house at the Cameron board office, second floor of the Citizens National Bank Building.

Kiwanis Club Plans Light Bulb Sale

The Cameron Kiwanis Club will conduct an annual light bulb sale the evenings of May 12 and 13 in a door-to-door canvass of Cameron.

Club officials said that club members will start calling on Cameron homes at 6:30 p.m. May 12. Residents wishing to buy bulbs should leave their porch lights on.

ject and Mrs. O. G. Tumlinson are shown adding their surplus plants. The large assortment of plants were given away in less than one hour.

Most Milam Cotton Planted, Moore Says

Most of the cotton in Milam County is planted, J. D. Moore, county agent, noted this week in his crop report.

Surface moisture was fully wet last week with sufficient plant growth. Rains limited field work to isolated spots, he said.

Oats and barley were heading out under excellent growing conditions. No damage was reported. Corn made good growth this week, but it needs cultivation to stir the soil, the county agent said.

Livestock conditions continue to be excellent with ranges good and prices strong.

Agriculture And Rains...

Rains, much the subject of conversation during this time of year, were abundant last week, causing rivers to burst their bounds in a wide state area. Little River went out this weekend.

But crops seemed to fare better than expected except in the river bottoms where overflows took their toll.

It seems that river water is not so much a problem in Milam County except when the San Gabriel and other tributaries feeding Little River gush forth.

Agricultural experts say that crops generally are doing quite well, giving rise to continued optimism on the part of Milam County farmers.

We know that optimism and enthusiasm never stopped an overflow, but the resultant efforts of both can do much to offset the physical damage of water out of bounds.

Hail too entered the weather picture as a 15-farm area in Liberty Community suffered considerable truck crop damage from hail stones ranging up to golf-ball size.

But these are the year-in, year-out hazards that always face farmers in this area. And Milam County farmers always rebound with renewed energy and enthusiasm regardless of the breaks.

If the mild, warm weather of the early part of the week continues, we will see how fast Milam County farmers work their fields and finish up crop planting and weeding.

It takes a lot more than rain to alter Milam County's optimism about her agriculture.

Third-Stage Trouble With Rocket
Like Third-Stage With Tractor

Dear editor:

I was out here the other afternoon working with my tractor, that is, I was sitting down looking at it wondering if I put some gas in it would it start, when I got to thinking about one phase of the satellite program that a lot of people seem to have overlooked.

That is, every once in a while when the scientists set out to launch one, everything works satisfactorily in the first two stages, the thing takes off straight up with a roar, the second stage rocket kicks it higher, but for some reason the third stage rocket fails, the one that's supposed to send it into orbit, and the satellite nose-dives into the ocean.

This has the scientists puzzled, but that's because they're not familiar with the rule of life I've discovered that says the third stage is always the hardest.

For example, take plowing. I can handle the first two stages. I can put some gas in the tractor and I can start it, but it's that third stage, driving it up one row and down another, putting it into orbit, so to speak, that I have trouble with.

With other people, it's other things. Take borrowing money. Some people can handle the first two stages, getting up the nerve to go into the bank, and actually getting the loan, but it is at the third stage, paying it back, that all the earlier scientific calculations seem to explode.

Or take getting married. A man can find a woman that'll marry him, and he can get married, but it's that third stage, keeping her in orbit, that brings on the headaches. A scientist occasionally may be able to figure out exactly how much it takes to get a satellite into orbit, but the mind of man has never mastered the job of figuring out ahead of time what it costs to keep a family's needs satisfied. The mysteries of outer space may be baffling, but they'll never equal the number of unknowns involved in keeping a growing family in orbit, especially when you no sooner get them going in one orbit than they break out in other orbits going in all directions.

Scientists with their nose-diving satellites really have it easy.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

12 Weeks To Elections

Lively Politics Seen For State Officials

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—At least 12 weeks of lively politicking lie ahead for Texas.

U. S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough laid the chips on the line and announced as a candidate for re-election. Since his opponent will be the former Sen. William Blakely, this appears to be the hottest race of the 1958 campaign.

Except for one Supreme Court justice, all top state officials are asking re-election.

As the filing time ended, only a few incumbents were without opposition.

TEC Firing Up

After hearing both sides, the Merit System Council voted unanimously not to interfere in the Texas Employment Commission's dismissal of its legal counsel.

Ousted Attorney Lee G. Williams said he would appeal to the courts. Williams was fired last month by a 2-1 Commission vote. R. F. Newman, labor representative on the Commission opposed the decision by Chmn. S. Perry Brown, public representative, and Maurice Acers, management representative.

Brown told the Merit System Council he felt Williams' personal feelings prejudiced his legal opinions in favor of labor. Biased legal advice, Brown contended, "is probably worse than none at all."

Williams exhibited legal opinions he had prepared favoring management's side. Newman and three former Commission members pled on Williams' behalf.

New Tack On Tidelands

International boundary discussion at the current Geneva Conference may dim Texas' hopes in the tidelands struggle, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson noted in a recent speech.

Russia wants national boundaries to be 12 miles out from land, Wilson related, and the U.S. says 3 miles out. Texas, in a case to be heard by the U.S. Supreme Court Oct. 13, will be trying to protect its long-standing claim to 10½ miles.

But, said Wilson, "the United States can't plug for a 3-mile international boundary and turn around and give Texas 10 miles." If the 3-mile boundary sticks, he said, Texas will then ask for oil rights to the 10-mile limit.

Why It Costs More

Wrap-around windshields and loads of chrome inevitably mean higher rates for automobile insurance.

A special legislative committee investigating auto coverage rates was told by State Insurance Dept. officials that costs of both materials and labor have gone up. New rates, to be set next summer, probably will have to be higher, they said.

In addition to the staggering tab for fixing the modern-day palace-on-wheels, if it gets smashed, high accident records boost insurance rates in a locality.

For instance, said a department official, Dallas' accident rate is only 60 per cent as high as Houston's. Hence, coverage that costs $18 in Dallas is $30 in Houston.

"People have to realize," he said, "that they set their own rates."

Climbing Costs Seen

Bad news for budget balancers is an official estimate that state welfare and education programs will cost $62,000,000 more during 1959-61 than at present.

In studying future spending needs, a Legislative Budget Board Committee noted that:

(1) A constitutional amendment to be voted on next November will,

if approved, add $9,000,000 to welfare costs. Proposed amendment would provide medical care for the needy.

(2) An increase in the number of children would probably up the state's share of the minimum foundation school program by $44,000,000. In addition, the amount in the available school fund will be less, creating a need for additional appropriation.

Committee commentary revived a touchy issue.... continued existence of "small, inefficient districts" that might be consolidated into other districts to lower overall costs.

On Courting Business

Growing government and climbing taxes make a chilly atmosphere in which to invite new industries.

This view from present Texas industrialists was presented at a recent hearing of the Texas Industrial Commission. Recently reactivated, the Industrial Commission is charged with finding ways to attract more industry to Texas.

Jim Yancey, spokesman for the Texas Manufacturers Assn. told the Commission that good labor-management laws and some restraint on government costs are needed. "Texas is fast losing its favorable position in comparison with other states in the area," he said.

Commission members noted there had been some "misunderstanding" by regional Chambers of Commerce. Commission's purpose, they emphasized, is to help, not compete with such groups.

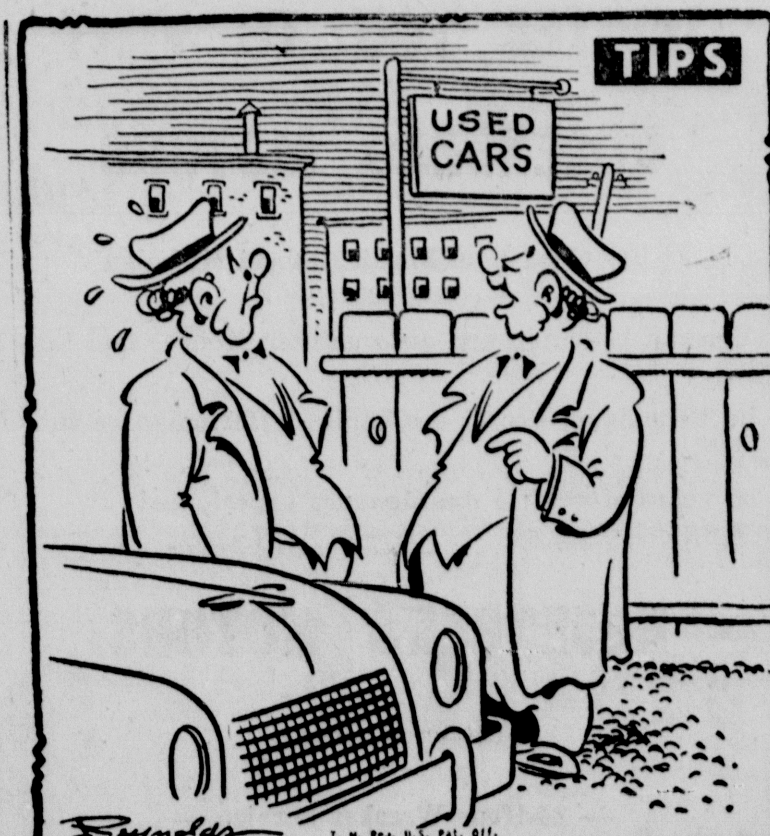

400 See Kings, Queens Crowned At Annual Fete

Miss Henderson Feted In Austin

Two entertainments honored Miss Jane B. Henderson, bride-elect of Jack C. Killgore, in Austin during the weekend.

A luncheon honored Miss Henderson Saturday at the home of Mrs. Boyd Wells, 3116 Wheeler Street, Austin.

Hostesses for the luncheon were the honoree's paternal aunts: Mesdames John Cecil Culpepper of College Station, Hamilton Bonnet of San Antonio, Ernest Beard of Hillsboro, J. C. Martin of Cameron and Boyd Wells, Austin.

Receiving guests were the hostesses; the bride-elect; her mother, Mrs. John B. Henderson; and Mrs. J. R. Killgore, Jr. of Rosebud, sister-in-law of the prospective groom. Miss Martha Beard of Hillsboro, cousin of Miss Henderson, registered the guests.

The honoree was dressed in pink linen and wore an orchid corsage presented to her by the hostesses.

The dining table was covered with a gold satin cloth and centered with an antique silver epergne holding yellow goldilocks roses and orange blossoms. The silver candelabra flanking the centerpiece were entwined with orange blossoms.

Coffee was served from the buffet which was decorated with an arrangement of pink roses and hurricane lamps festooned with sweetheart roses.

The entire lower floor of the home was decorated with roses and other spring flowers.

Personal Shower Sunday

Miss Margaret Woessner of Houston honored Miss Henderson with a personal shower Sunday afternoon at the Delta Gamma House in Austin.

Miss Woessner and Miss Henderson are sorority sisters and were roommates at the Delta Gamma House last year and at the University of Hawaii.

A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out at the brideelects register, the refreshment table and the coffee table holding the gifts.

Flower arrangements were of white stock, yellow fuji mums and fever few. The honoree's corsage matched her stylish chemise of white cotton satin splashed with blue roses.

The guest list was composed of the bride-elect's mother; her aunts, Mrs. Boyd Wells of Austin and Mrs. J. C. Martin of Cameron; the Delta Gamma house mother, Mrs. LaTrelle Thompson; and sorority sisters.

Miss Lucy Machost of San Antonio announces the engagement of her daughter, Rosemary, to Robert L. Rinn, Jr., of San Antonio. Mr. Rinn is the son of Mrs. Robert L. Rinn of Austin and the grand son of Mrs. Clyde V. Watters of Cameron. The wedding is set for July 19 in San Antonio.

MILAM COUNTY'S

FARM SCENE

Plant Mildew Likely, County Agent Warns

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

J. D. Moore, County Agent
Downy mildew on canteloupes is likely to cause serious losses if showers continue. The disease first appears on the leaves in the form of numerous yellowish angular spots, which later turn brown and eventually kill the leaves. Results from dusting often have been disappointing for the control of downy mildew.

Powdery mildew appears as white patches of mold on both sides of the leaves. Normally, PMR No. 6 is resistant to this disease and no control program is needed. PMR No. 45 may be attacked by one certain strain of powdery mildew and spraying or dusting will be required.

Dithane (3-78), Karathane, Parate, and Zineb are the fungicides commonly used on truck crops.

Powdery Mildew On Flowers
Powdery mildew attacks many flowering and ornamental plants, and may be very prevalent at this time.

Gardeners should check their plantings for signs of the disease. The fungus appears as a white to grayish growth covering the surface of the plant parts, mainly the leaf surface. Dust the plants with 325-mesh sulfur at the first appearance of the disease or spray with wettable sulfur (2 oz. per gallon). Repeat the application if needed. Karathane or Midec may be substituted for the sulfur either as a dust or spray.

Some of the more commonly grown plants which should be watched for mildew are roses, violets, chrysanthemums, honeysuckle, phlox, innias, crapemyrtle, euonymus, hydrangea, and such vegetables as beans, cucumbers, canteloupes, pumpkin and squash.

Unless the disease is controlled, the plants may lose their foliage and thus fail to make normal growth and production. The county agent has detailed information on how to treat the various plants. If commercial preparations are applied, be sure you follow the recommendations of the manufacturer of the material used in making the application.

Use Pesticides Carefully
Never use plant pesticides on livestock. This rule for protecting farm animals from chemical poisoning was developed by U.S.D.A. scientists investigating occasional cases of livestock poisoning by insecticides and herbicides.

Though the same material may be used in preparations designed for use on animals as for plants, the concentration and chemical formulation may be vastly different. The difference can mean a sick animal. Pesticides are "safe" only when used as intended by the manufacturer and in accordance with his directions.

Never over-treat plants to be used as livestock feed. Some highly poisonous insecticides can be used safely because directions call for quantities too small to cause animal poisoning. Less toxic compounds may be more dangerous where larger than recommended quantities are used. Always follow the manufacturer's directions and never guess at quantities.

Poison symptoms appearing in animals fed pesticide-treated materials may mask even more serious disorders such as rabies, pseudo-rabies and encephalitis. Diagnosis is difficult, but animals suffering from pesticide poisoning alone will usually recover completely under good care, providing the poisoning is not too severe.

Chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides such as DDT, TDE, methoxychlor, benene hexachlor, isodrin and endrin act on the central nervous system. Symptoms range from severe depression to violent convulsions or respiratory paralysis.

Organic phosphorus compounds used for plant pest control are closely allied to the nerve gases developed for chemical warfare. They include parathion, methyl parathion, malathion, Dipterex, chlorothion and Guthion. They also affect the nervous system, and animals poisoned breathe with difficulty, slobber and stiffen.

Chemical weed killers rarely poison livestock, despite claims to the contrary. The only danger, lies in consumption of freshly treated plants. This can be avoided by removing livestock from treated areas for one or two weeks. Arsenical compounds are well established as poisonous, but they are less frequently used than formerly. The common weed-killers 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T are much less toxic to animals.

Home Demonstration Agent Sights Extension History For HD Week

By Alice G. Hughes
Home Demonstration Agent

The first week in May is observed as National Home Demonstration Week. This year more than 6½ million homemakers, who take part in home demonstration work throughout America, will observe this week with special activities.

Extension History

Milam county holds a world of extension history. It all began back in February 1908, that is fifty years ago, when George Banzhaf was hired as county agricultural agent.

Banzhaf tells many experiences of his career. First, he visited farms on horseback, then by buggy and motorcycle and finally with the model T Ford. He still comes to the office each day and enjoys seeing old friends. Mr. Banzhaf served as county agent Emeritus from 1940 to 1946. In 1946 he retired officially as a county agricultural agent. He was succeeded by J. W. Stufflebeme, Jr., 1946-1949. J. D. Moore, our present county agricultural agent, succeeded Stufflebeme.

Mr. Banzhaf tells us that back in 1912 when Mr. Quicksall was Extension Supervisor west of the Brazos, he wrote Mr. Banzhaf inquiring about a woman to put on as a "Collaborator for Girls Tomato Clubs." Mr. Banzhaf and Judge Graham Gillis decided to recommend Mrs. Edna W. Triggs, a teacher in the Liberty Community near Milano. After much correspondence with the United States Department of Agriculture, Mrs. Triggs accepted the job of teaching girls to cultivate, can and market tomatoes.

Mrs. Triggs Starts Club
Mrs. Triggs is said to have organized the first 4-H Clubs in Texas here in Milam County in 1912. She had 11 clubs with 110 girls. She worked in Milam county for three years. At that time she went to Denton county as home demonstration agent. Mrs. Triggs held the first 4-H club exhibit with the girls, with approximately 2,000 people attending, including a personal representative of the Governor.

The county was without an agent until 1923, then Miss Gladys Henry worked until 1924, teaching mostly canning. Mrs. Etta W. Ringgold served from 1925-26; Miss Velma

Montgomery served 1926-27. During this period work was not organized and each club was given a different program. During this period there were many contests, such as bread making, butter, cheese and all phases of home improvement, and the first home demonstration clubs were organized.

Miss Minnie Bartholomew

Miss Minnie Bartholomew was agent from 1928-1933. During this period the women result demonstrators were established. Miss Bertha Fae Strange served during 1933-1936. Mrs. L. L. Bradley of Rockdale, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Kornegay, and Mrs. Hood Caldwell of Bethlehem, went to the A&M Shortcourses on recreation and came home with true Extension spirits, teaching people from all parts of the county.

Miss Dorothy Porter served Milam county from 1936-1944. During this period 3,742 cotton mattresses were made for needy families in Milam county. Miss Porter also served during the trying days of World War II. TELEPHONE TALK

SHOP THE EASY WAY

If you are a newcomer in town or you may be wondering where to buy a product or service you want, look first in the Yellow Pages of your Cameron Telephone directory.

There are 24 pages of classified listings and advertisements listing the products or services Cameron business telephone customers have to offer. You can find it fast in the Yellow Pages, an easy and convenient way to shop. Try it, won't you, you'll be glad you did.

MOTHER'S DAY REMINDER

Sunday, May 11, will be Mother's Day. Unfortunately, we all won't be able to drop in and wish our Mother a "Happy Mother's Day." The next best thing - as I see it - is to call her on the telephone.

Lots of sons and daughters call home on Mother's Day. That's why I suggest that you place your call early and call by number. In that way you'll avoid delay.

So don't forget - plan now on a Long Distance call on May 11 to make Mother's special day even happier.

ON AND OFF THE JOB

On the job, telephone people here in Cameron have a responsible part in keeping the town's telephone system working properly to serve you.

But quite a few telephone people go even farther than that in serving the community.

For example, Valon Fogle, Installer-Repairman, is active in the Knights of Pythias, Ex-Commander of the American Legion and is a member of the Masonic Lodge and Scottish-Rite Bodies, 32nd Degree.

Wesley Fogle, Installer, is Vice Commander of the American Legion. These men spend a great deal of their spare time on these community activities when off the job.

Whatever our jobs, whatever our favorite community activities, we telephone people share a common interest with you - making Cameron the best possible place to live in and raise our families.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Good Advice

E. Dodson Says Proper Car Care Saves Auto Life

Preventive maintenance is the most important thing for the life of a car, Eddie Dodson, veteran mechanic-owner of Dodson's Garage, 107 N. Crockett, points out to customers.

A veteran mechanic with a lifetime of experience behind him, Dodson says his garage offers the complete tune-up and check-up service that makes driving a pleasure.

He points out that the spring season should mean check-up time for Milam County drivers who want to be ready for warmer driving temperatures and different road conditions for the car.

"We can do all general auto repair on all makes of cars," Dodson says. "We specialize in wheel balancing and offer a fine brake repair and wheel alignment service."

Spring Tune-Up

It's time to get that spring tune-up, Dodson emphasizes. Dodson and his associate, Cozine Sheffield, an ace mechanic of 20 years experience, check the general condition of a car before they tackle the specific problems at hand.

"That way," Dodson continues, "we don't overlook something else that the motorist might overlook."

"And we offer pick-up and delivery service for city customers and prompt service for all customers whose cars go through my shop," Dodson goes on.

Dodson sells Westric batteries for trucks, cars, and tractors as well as offering a battery charging service. And he has a good stock of standard name-brand auto parts on hand.

Dodson's summer business hours are from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Sheffield, a native countian, is a general repair expert with 20 years of varied experience, including work on naval motors, power plants and diesel engineering school. He also has experience in large car dealers service departments.

Veteran Mechanic

Dodson is a lifetime veteran of auto mechanics. Born in Ben Arnold, he has attended practically every type of auto school and worked as an airplane mechanic for four years during World War II. Included in his long experience and schooling is training in personal management.
